THE BLOODY HAND OF TYRANNY.

The New York World which announced in its last Saturday issue the publication of a portrait of the Emperor of Germany, thus describes him:

"Modern history offers no more striking figure than that of the German Emperor. From the moment, twenty-six years ago, when a mere stripling he ascended the throne and dismissed Bismarck that he might rule as he pleased, through a quarter of a century of unparalleled constructive achievement, during which he made Germany the greatest nation of Continental Europe, till the other day he staked the destinies of his people upon the fate of battle, the Kaiser has been one of the dominating forces of mankind. He has won great victories in peace and now hopes to win even greater ones in war. For that the industry and commerce of the world have been stopped, the wheat-fields turned into shambles and the peaceful highways of commerce on the seas mined. At a word from him millions of men have been sent out to kill or be killed, to cripple or be crippled, and there was no force on earth to oppose his will or to gainsay his 'divine right' to make war."

It is of curious interest just at this time to note that it is within the power of sovereigns of constitutional monarchies to declare war. Monarchs are laughed at nowadays in times of peace as titular rulers—mere figure-heads—yet when Austria declared war on Serbia, Emperor Francis Joseph used the pronoun "I" and when other countries declared war other monarchs couched their declarations in similar phrases. A monarch in times of peace is a sort of Dummy Director, but nevertheless he can plunge millions of his subjects into battle.

Isn't it about time to do away with kings? What Oriental tyrant had a bloodier hand than that of the Kaiser of Germany has in 1914?—Frankfort State Journal.

FOOLISH PHILOSOPHY.

The rule is that a man's word is about as good as his oath.

Every married man belongs to the diplomatic service.

By the time a man gets around to reading a borrowed book he has forgotten who loaned it to him.

Every woman has a piece of jewelry of which she says: "It isn't worth much but I value it because of its associations."

When a crook is caught red-handed and desires the sympathy of the public he talks a great deal about his "dear old mother."

Considering the way they are ground down, the people seem to get along pretty well.

How a man longs to take hold of the story his wife is trying to tell and shape it up so that her audience will understand it. But he doesn't dare do it.

While the parcel post has cut into their earnings along certain lines, the express companies continue to do a good business in prohibition communities.

Many a girl tries to make a cloak of her religion when she hasn't even enough to make a bathing suit.

What's become of the noblest first-pager of them all—T. R.?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

HUMOROUS HOWLS FROM THE PRESS.

A Mystery.

(From The Evening Star, Washington.)

"My boy Josh has been talkin' to me about scientific farmin'," said Mr. Cornstossel.

"He seems to have interested you."

"Yes. What I'd like to find out now is how a man that knows as little about farmin' as I do ever managed to make the place pay."

Grievance of Greece.

(From The St. Louis Republic.)

No wonder Greece is irritated. She paid full price for a pair of second-hand ships and then Turkey got two at a forced sale.

Changed Sentiments.

(From Times Dispatch, Richmond.)

Many Europeans who ridiculed Wilson's handling of the Mexican problem are beginning to wish they lived in Mexico.

Post Card Slump.

(From The Pittsburg Gazette-Times.)

Incidentally there is quite a slump in the past life of collecting souvenir post cards of Europe. Most of our tourists instead of wanting to remember are trying to forget the places they visited.

Pinch Hitter.

(From The Plain Dealer, Cleveland.)

As a pinch hitter Belgium wields a ready bat for the entire club.

Other Uncertainties.

(From Evening Star, Washington.)

Hereafter American tourists will take the possibilities of warfare into consideration as well as those of the weather.

Recall Occasionally Sounded.

(St. Louis Globe Democrat.)

When it comes to war the initiative appears to be used more than the referendum.

Good Thing To Do.

(From Gazette Times, Pittsburg.)

About all those big battles seem to do is to impend.

Ready for Action.

(From The Ohio State Journal.)

The first line of Russian reserves is completely mobilized and all ready to run away.

THE DAILY NOVELETTE.

The Plot.

Old Henry the Eighth

Was a gay old gink,

For he never once missed

A pretty girl's wink.

It was a warm day of the year 1540. (See Agamemnon Sprout's "Warm Days and Their Relation to History.")

King Henry VIII. was loitering back in the royal coach and, as usual, keeping an eye open for beautiful women as the equipage sped through the park. Suddenly he sat up stiffly. (See Maribel Pew's "Kings and How They Sat Up.")

"The little devil! She's winking at me!" exclaimed Henry VIII. "Jeems! Jeems! Stop the coach!"

The coachman obeyed and King Henry hastily scriawling on one of his business cards, "Come to the ladies' entrance of the palace at 4:30 this afternoon," tossed it to the lovely girl who had smiled at him, and the coach once more rolled on.

II.

At 4:30 exactly Maude Heliotrope presented herself at the designated entrance and was at once led to the royal secret apartment, where the King awaited her. (See Sander Mink's "Where Henry VIII. Awaited Them.") But, lo! just as the King was about to chuck her under the chin, she pulled from somewhere a roll of parchment weighing eleven pounds.

"Your Highness," she said rapidly, "I have here a petition signed by 45,000 London working women, all of whom desire the right to vote. Your Highness—"

But by this time the King had opened a secret door, slammed it behind him and was fleeing down the private exit alley, muttering, "Stung! Curses! Stung!"—Louisville Times.

BURDENS LIFTED

From Maysville Backs—Relief Proved By Lapse of Time.

Backache is a heavy burden; Nervousness, dizziness, headache, Rheumatic pain; urinary ills; All wear one out. Often effects of kidney weakness. No use to cure the symptoms, Relief is but temporary if the cause remains.

If it's the kidneys, cure the cause. Doan's Kidney Pills are for kidney ills.

Read about your neighbor's case. Here's Maysville testimony.

The kind that can be investigated. Mrs. John E. Burns, Maysville, Ky., says: "The statement I gave before when I publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills, still holds good. I know that this remedy is just as represented as it has been used by one of my relatives with satisfactory results. Doan's Kidney Pills were procured at Wood & Son's Drug Store."

Mrs. Burns is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—If your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Burns recommends—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50¢ all stores. Foster-Wilbur Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

RODE HORSE INTO CHURCH

Handcuffed, After Fight, and Turned Over To Officials—Sentenced To Work House.

Waverly, Ohio.—A horse ridden by Newton Barrett up the main aisle of the Pike Christian Church, near here, Sunday evening, broke up a district conference in progress in the church.

The moderator, Rev. J. Q. Lawwill, who was occupying the pulpit, directed Constable James Patterson, who was in the congregation, to remove the intruder. When the officer sought to perform his duty he was laid out with a kick from Barrett's foot.

It required the entire male portion of the congregation to overpower him, while women and children fled in terror. Barrett was bound with straps and ropes until the arrival of the Sheriff, who placed him under arrest. Monday afternoon he entered a plea of guilty, and received a heavy fine and work house sentence.

FIFTY YEARS AGO IN CINCINNATI

(Commercial Tribune.)

AUGUST 24, 1864.)

Newport and Covington were placed in the general military district of Eastern Kentucky, which is commanded by General Burbridge.

The packet Courier burned to the water's edge at Cairo yesterday. There was no loss of life.

Two hundred and fifty-two wounded and sick soldiers arrived at the Nashville hospitals on the 21st. There were thirty-one Ohio soldiers in the list.

Eleven packets arrived at the local landing yesterday and twelve departed. Business was heavy and passenger lists good.

The hot weather continued yesterday, the thermometer ranging between 82 and 93 degrees.

New York quotations yesterday: Cotton, $1.87, flour $10.90, wheat $2.37 and corn $1.62. Money slightly easier.

There were fifty-six cases on the police docket yesterday, most of them being common drunks.

Citizens of Newport and Covington file a protest with the authorities against the practice of dumping dead animals in the river, claiming that there are several hundred dead horses now floating near the mouth of the Licking.

MAY BE PRISON COMMISSIONER.

Col. W. P. Walton, of Lexington, veteran Kentucky editor and Democrat, who recently returned from Florida, is being urged for appointment as a member of the State Prison Commission to succeed Henry R. Lawrence. Col. Walton is a close personal and political friend of Gov. McCreary, who, it is understood, will find the vacancy upon his return from Atlantic City.

Old papers 5 cents a hundred at The Ledger office.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one cure for that disease that has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
